For the last two weeks the cranes were neither seen nor heard of and supposedly they would be enjoying the warmth of the Andalucían plains. WRONG! This morning four cranes walked the runway for breakfast. Rainfall during the night had lured the delicious creepy-crawling vermin to the surface and the cranes enjoyed a healthy meal. The deer bull can be heard bellowing in the night and seen walking the runway showing up his majestic might. Awesome!

The mighty bull

Birch trees are yellowing and the fantastic coloring of the woods has started.

Wood-, concrete- and frigitenews
Fall is inevitably on its way. But that doesn't mean winter lair for building activities in the airpark. The hangar of G-borg is steadily growing; the nail pistol can be heard in the quiet September mist...

The G-borg hangar

...and DM's and JH's hangar plates are now waiting for the concrete to cover the enforcements.

JH's...

...and DM's

When PI arrives late September he will probably bring a kitchen with him to be fitted into his new house.

The new house

A huge pile of shingles and a bunch of pipes landed on the last Propellervägs-plot last Friday, and Monday our excavator with Jan-E at the controls started digging for foundation of the Valentin-chateau .

The Diggers

Heavy painting activity has taken place at TE's house, and the nicely carved wooden propeller mounted on the top of the HB-hangar reveals that our airpark contains yet another artist.

Fresh paint

HB's propeller

The miraculous turf around the FD's buildings ...

The Magnificent turf

...is envied by the PMs, who are desperately trying to grow grass on the former ditch. The drain work done in august on Propellervägen is by the way working beautifully and heavy rain doesn't bother the plot owners there anymore.

Vindmyrevägen

What bothers the whole village, however, is the condition of the road Vindmyrevägen! Soon fall and winter rain will turn the road into a bottomless mud pool, and our board members are working hard on a solution that includes subsidies from Leksand commune. Hopefully work can be initiated before winter comes. Elections to the Swedish parliament is taking place on the 19th of this month, and most parties are emphasizing the importance of well-working infra structure including good roads to support living in the villages of Siljan. Siljan AirPark is one of these villages!

Club news

Even though the quiet purr of SE-VPS (the club Dynamic) still is heard low season for flying is approaching, and the Wednesday barbecue at the clubhouse is on stand by until spring. But the club is still alive, and Wednesday evenings still offer flying chat and coffee in the corner couch. Some airparkers are considering a motion to the club about moving the annual general meeting from February to sometime in late spring or early summer, where more airparkers are here and consequently will be able to participate in the general meeting.

Oh-Livia, new member

Another kind of purr was heard when the "live!" decision was made by our local cat expert when presented to the apparently abandoned kitten on the Larsson plot - hence the name Livia. Livia immediately snuggled into the expert's hair and a bond was created!

Oh-Livia!

We shall try to follow the fate of Livia.

Siljansnäs

Siljansnäs is working hard on development. Public meetings are held regularly where projects and plans are presented check Hur ska servicen i Siljansnäs se ut i framtiden | Siljansnäs (in Swedish!)

The World

Out in the big world (outside Europe!) airpark is a well-known concept. Check here for a number of these in the US Airpark Living • Index page.

Upcoming events:

On November the 6th the Siljan AirPark Harvest ball will take place in Biggles Café. Like previous years it will most likely be a Halloween party - the horror theme!! Check the web-site for coming details.
